PLYMOUTH — Brett Outchcunis (pronounced ooch-KOO-nis), aka "Ooch," a dynamic motivational entertainer and touring yo-yo professional, will be in Plymouth Saturday, Feb. 27, to present an evening of fun, laughter and insight.

Ooch, whose mission is to empower children to create positive outcomes in their daily lives, connects with families through a live, interactive performance aimed at fostering communication and respect among all family members.

Through the use of yo-yos, music, dance, storytelling, comedy and laughter, children and parents will learn how to recognize and embrace their own unique gifts, while also realizing these qualities in each other.

Ooch spends the academic year traveling to schools in New England and beyond, speaking to students on topics ranging from positive life choices to academic excellence. He also visits corporations speaking on the importance of fun in the workplace and recapturing the wonders of imagination.

The show begins at 6:30 p.m. at Plymouth South High School, at 490 Long Pond Road. Tickets purchased in advance cost $7 for children and $12 for adults. Tickets purchased at the door are $10 and $15. For details and tickets, visit www.oochworld.com/ofe.php or call 617-775-7679.
